Congratulations Meseret, Reshid,

The draft you have submitted to ES2024 has been accepted.

You are now required to submit a final paper for publication by April 15, 2024, 11:59 PM EST.

The final version will be eligible for publication in the conference proceedings, provided all required materials and forms are submitted by the stated deadline.

Your paper information is as follows:

Paper Number: ES2024 -132061

Paper Title: A Dual Axis Solar Tracker With a Solar Panel Protection Feature Using a Foldable Panel Housing-Unit

Please incorporate the reviewer comments and my comments into your final version.

The detailed comments of the reviewers are available through your author account or by using the link below.

<https://asme-extender-production.secure-platform.com/176/abstracts/132061/feedback>

Please make sure that all authors listed on the paper have completed the copyright agreements prior to submitting the final paper.

When you have completed the above steps and your final version of the paper, please login to your ASME 2024 Energy Sustainability (ES2024) author account and submit it online. You will receive an on-screen confirmation of your submission, as well as an e-mail confirmation.

NOTE: ASME does not accept revised final papers so please make sure that you carefully proofread your final paper BEFORE you submit the paper.

Congratulations, again, and thank you for your interest and participation in ASME 2024 Energy Sustainability (ES2024).

Regards,

ASME 2024 Energy Sustainability (ES2024)
